

May 1- 3, 2003

Collecting Ordovician and Devonian Trilobites and other fossils in Nevada

We decided to brave some more than inclement weather on this trip in search of trilobites. I really can't say what it is about them that is so tempting to us, but we keep on going back. This time we were looking for Ordovician and Devonian trilobites. After a long drive and a lot of hiking this is what we came back with.

